

WOLF STORY

The duo is composed of Steve Sanx, a music teacher with classical training and Rico a DJ aiming from the rave scene in Paris during the 90s. After playing a few gigs together in Miami they decided to launch a new project: Wolf Story. The last few years have been massive for the pair, playing all over Florida, then touring in Europe in Amsterdam for ADE, III Points Festival and shaking the walls in a few clubs in France. In Miami their sets at Do Not Sit on The Furniture and The Electric Pickle are still being talked about.

On the production end their versatile beats are being played by the likes of Kevin Saunderson, Sharam, Nora En Pure, Steve Lawler, Chus & Ceballos, and Fedde Le Grand. "Heart Love" EP out on Berlin imprint Get Physical topped the Afro House Beatport Top 100 for several months. "Dem People Go" a remix of Dennis Ferrer infamous classic made it #2 Afro House on Beatport, rated by DJ Mag 9/10: "That's some pretty impervious, buy-on-sight pedigree right there. As suspected, "Dem People Go" just oozes production quality, from the rattling shakers to the hollow percussion, while the drama gently builds and the piano lilt. Laurent Garnier "Looves it" (with an extra "o", no less). Chances are you will too. It's massive."

BBC Radio 1 supported "The Harp", the song got a spin by Danny Howard on his weekly show, while "Time" released on Yoshitoshi got fireworks treatment at the Tomorrowland Dynamic stage –played by Kollektiv Turmstrasse.

Wolf Story is just getting started since the duo has current and upcoming projects with dance music maestros Roger Sanchez, Kerri Chandler, Low Steppa, Oscar G, Technasia, Dennis Cruz, George Acosta, Brian Cid, Mr V, Demuir and singer & song writers Jinadu and Queen Rose. Their reach on Spotify is quite substantial with multiple tracks reaching +1M Plays and "Dem People Go" reaching an audience of +2M plays.

Data Transmission wrote: There are many stories about wolves and hunters. From Little Red Riding Hood to the Chronicles of Narnia, one thing you can be sure of is that a wolf will never be too far from the action. Applying the mysticism of our canine friends to their musical output, Miami based duo Steve Sanx and Rico from Paris formed Wolf Story. Guaranteed to get you howling at the moon – or at least wanting to – both producers earned their stripes as solo artists and label owners before deciding that they needed to join forces if they really wanted to have an impact.

So just who were they before they became Wolf Story? Well, Steve was the Peruvian mastermind behind Golden Tears and Beachside Records whilst uber Frenchman Rico ran the show at Oxygen and Bimini Records having started to DJ with Popof in the 90's . So quite a pedigree then. Aiming for world domination, we're expecting to hear big things from the pairing this summer so remember, the next time there are a couple of wolves at the door, make sure you let them in...
